March 16th, 2020

The management team at Northern Cables would like to reassure our clients and staff that we are maintaining operations amid the global spread of Coronavirus (COVID-19).

At this time, our supply chain of North American sourced raw materials has not been compromised, therefore we will continue manufacturing operations at all three facilities.

Our office also remains open in order to process your inquiries by phone and email. Our shipping and receiving departments are also busy receiving new raw materials and fulfilling your orders.

Northern Cables is taking necessary precautions to ensure the health and safety of our employees. We have halted any business travel, client site visits, and limited visits to our facilities.

We will continue to monitor this fast-changing situation and update you when there are any substantial changes.
